Earth Tech Named Manufacturer Of The Year

Land O' Lakes, Fla. (September 9, 2009) – Earth Tech, Inc. (www.earthtech.net) the Southeast's leading foundation and soil stabilization company, won Manufacturer of the Year Tuesday night at the Pasco Economic Development Council's Annual Industry Appreciation Banquet

“This is a high honor and one that we earned through the hard work and dedication of all our great staff members,” said Ron Broadrick, chief executive officer of Earth Tech, a family-run business based in Land O' Lakes, Fla. “I could not be more proud of our people who make it happen every day. Thank you.”

The annual event was held at the Saddlebrook Resort in Wesley Chapel, Fla.

On the commercial side, Earth Tech stabilizes soil in preparation for new construction. St. Petersburg recently chose Earth Tech to get the site ready for the new home of the Salvador Dali Museum.

For its residential work, Earth Tech stabilizes homes damaged by sinkholes. Since 1991, the company has successfully helped more than 3,000 homeowners and businesses throughout the Southeast.

What makes Earth Tech different from its competitors are its experienced staff, state-of-the-art equipment and focus on soil stabilization. As a specialist for many years, Earth Tech has honed a system to deliver faster, higher-quality service than other firms in its industry.

Founded by Lewis and Ron Broadrick, a father-and-son team, Earth Tech has expanded from its Tampa Bay area roots to serve businesses and homeowners throughout the Southeastern United States with its staff of engineers, project managers and customer service professionals.
